

Chicago

The third in a series of regional meetings took place at the University of Chicago on September 19-20, 2015.

Agenda & Panelists

Saturday, September 19, 2015

9:00-9:30

Welcome & Opening Remarks

Phillip Griffiths, Institute for Advanced Study & TPSE Math (Chair)

9:30-10:45 Panel 1: The Role of University/College Administrations in Teaching & Research

Robert Zimmer, President, University of Chicago (Chair)

Brit Kirwan, Chancellor Emeritus, University System of Maryland & TPSE Math

Rick Miranda, Provost & Executive Vice President, Colorado State University

Phyllis Wise, Former Chancellor, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

11:15-12:30 Panel 2: The Role of Mathematics Departments

Eric Friedlander, University of Southern California & TPSE Math (Chair)

Paul Goerss, Northwestern University

Brit Kirwan, University System of Maryland & TPSE Math

David Morrison, University of California, Santa Barbara

Nancy Sattler, AMATYC & Terra Community College

Judy Walker, University of Nebraska – Lincoln

2:00-3:15 Panel 3: Training of Graduate Students

Michael Vogelius, Director, Div. of Mathematical Sciences, Nat'l Science Foundation (Chair)

Tara Holm, Cornell University & TPSE Math

Richard Laugesen, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Amie Wilkinson, University of Chicago

3:45-5:00 Panel 4: Secondary School Teacher Training (emphasis on urban/underachieving schools)

Robert Fefferman, Professor of Mathematics, University of Chicago (Chair)

Jim Lewis, University of Nebraska - Lincoln

Michael Marder, University of Texas at Austin & UTeach

Regeta Slaughter, University of Illinois at Chicago

Sunday, September 20

9:00-10:15

Panel 5: Enhanced Opportunities for Highly Motivated Undergraduates

Mark Green, University of California, Los Angeles & TPSE Math (Chair)

Joseph Gallian, University of Minnesota - Duluth

Rachel Levy, Harvey Mudd College

Christine Taylor, Princeton University